NOT A ONE-COUNTRY JOB

The Government of Great Britain has lifted the ban recently imposed upon the export of arms and munitions from that country to Japan and China.

Since other countries refused to follow suit, the prohibition did not cut off or curtail the supply of weapons and ammunition available to the belligerents. All it could have accomplished in the circumstances was to force Great Britain to "come out at Britain, and put or keep British munition-makers out of employment.

GRAIN NOT WORTH SIPPING

The associated boards of trade of Peace River are urging that grain rates from that district to Edmonton be reduced to the rate from Edmonton to the terminal points.

This would involve the Dominion Government paying to the railways a subsidy proportioned to the amount of grain handled. The effect would be the same as that of an export bounty, but it would be the better that was paid on all wheat exported in the 1921-22 trading season, five cents a bushel. The request is entirely reasonable, and the money would be well spent.

Peace River had a good crop last year, but relatively little grain has been shipped out. Why ship grain when the proceeds would be absorbed in freightage?

Business in the north country has felt the effects of this blockade during the winter. It is to be expected to show improvement until a movement occurs. Meantime, it is to be supposed, farm debts of all kinds have been accumulating and will continue to accumulate. And the consequences of this to farmers anywhere else in the west. They should get therefore the most consistent help that can be given. That would be to reduce the freight rates on grain to the level of the cost of the grain in the Edmonton district, and his freight is none too good.

For the time being Peace River farmers are shut out from export markets almost as effectively as though they had no railway outlet at all. Their situation in that respect is unstable, and worse than that of farmers anywhere else in the west. They
the grain in the Edmonton district, and his
freight is none too good.

What hasn't declined

The story of the origin and progress of the great slump has probably not been told in simpler or fewer words than this. The story is the story reviewed last by the National City Bank of New York.

The fundamental cause of trouble goes back to the war-time rise in prices and wages and in inflation of credit. This established a level of values which as people became accustomed to it seemed to be real and permanent. But when the war ended indefiniteness was created upon the basis of those values. When it turned out that they were inflated, the action in prices and wages was to fall. The value left the new indefiniteness without adequate support.

There is no doubt whatever about the decline in prices and in property and investment values, and wages. Prices have collapsed. Wages have sunk to the subsistence level, valued entirely for millions. Farm property and town property have only nominal values. For what has happened to investment values—look at the stock lists.

Everything has declined except the value of the unpleasant world deflated, but the volume of indebt-ness. That is still charged up in the original figures.
And the figure for the volume of indebtedness is of an intelligent relationship to prices, wages, and property and investment values. They are now as remote from the realities of life as those sky king the dream world of the "redeemed" support.

When is this volume of indebtedness to be allowed to decline in keeping with the earnings and values from which it is unfounded, and the fight is as bitter as ever between the forces of the Free State Government and the Republicans.

Hon. Chas. Stewart in a communication to the United States Senate, the minister at which as an internal storage elevator might logically be built.

A delegation from St. Paul de Metis waited on Premier Bennett yesterday to view the construction of a railway to that point. Last year a C.N.R. line projected in the general direction of St. Paul was started. Oliver and some fifteen miles of grade were completed.

The Provincial budget speech delivered by Premier Sifton shows a surplus for the Province amounting to one million, fifty-five thousand, two hundred and seventy-five dollars.

Lethbridge—Chairman McGill of the Grain Commission stated that Edmonton is one of three places on the Eastern side of the mountains at which an internal storage elevator might logically be built.

Dublin—Up to this date all the rumors of peace in Ireland have proved to be unfounded, and the
the Free State Government and the Republicans.

minimum, and have been doing so with the consent of the department. And the spread above the minimum has simply telescoped. To reduce the minimum would be to recognize the existing facts, and something may be said for the proposal to that ground. There is no profit in keeping up a pretence.

The trouble will come when the tide turns, and conditions begin to show improvement. Unless the minimum is then promptly lifted, there will be a general exodus from the teaching profession, and salaries never will be raised to good times, as they are cut down in hard times. Should this exodus occur, it will take out of the profession all of its teachers who have had the longest experience in the world and who have had the longest experience. That is the class of teachers the province can ill afford to lose.

It would be better to leave the minimum where it is, giving the Minister power to suspend it in the case of districts which are hard-pressed, and allowing it to come automatically into play again when the times improve.

Or, as an alternative, the minimum might be reduced for the period of one year only, to come up again for consideration at the next session in the light of conditions then prevailing.

SIDE GLANCES - By George Clark

By J. S. Cooper.

There are 307 Drakshob children in custody of the British Government. They have been committed to the crime. The sins of the parents are being visited upon the children.

A government return shows that it costs an average of $12.71 a month to keep a Drakshob child. This will not include rent, fuel and light.
Wonder how the government harmonizes its own policy of reducing military expenditure with an allowance of $15 a month for a man and his wife, to cover rent, fuel, water and light, in addition to food and clothing?

Sir Basil Blackett, a director of the Bank of England and former chancellor of the exchequer in India, has written a book called "Planned Money." He advocates a planned money system as a means of meeting new economic problems. That is a significant indication of the changing trends of thought toward money systems.

There was when directors of the Bank of England for "sound money." To lay hands on the currency was sacrilege. Now the tables are turned.
Sir Basil Blackett advocates the sanctity of contracts as an argument for a planned currency. He says:

"The doctrine of the sanctity of money contracts is essential to the maintenance of confidence and credit on which the economic machinery of the modern world rests. This doctrine can not, however, when wholesale intellectual and moral anarchy so long as money itself is subjected to large and irrational fluctuations in purchasing power."

No need to explain that last clause to farmers who borrowed money or purchased commodities when a dollar had a value of a half a bushel of wheat, now finding demand for payment in dollars with a value of three bushels of wheat.

Sir Basil's book is in the hands of the reviewers when the currency of the United States banking system occurred. He cannot be accused of being wise only after the event when he urged "a policy of purchasing power" that must be based on gold, which he declares had become unworkable owing to the competitive positions of New York, Paris and London. He overlooked, as have many others, the competitive positions of farmers in the Middle West who preferred their gold in a sock under the kitchen floor to the questionable safety of falling prices.

Sir Basil comments on the manner in which St. Basil's society, Montreal, was founded in 1884 and has been a source of trouble to the city. He says:
"They have given pertinaciously to the belief that gold was really stable, and have treated it as stable in all their monetary dealings, and have succeeded in making all kinds of explanations of their economic difficulties rather than the true one that their money was not a true measure of value."

Quite recently, Sir Basil Blackett was a visitor to the Pacific coast. It is to be hoped he paid a visit to Ottawa on his way home.

Canada's position is an odd one, being neither on the gold standard or not. We are like the troops of that good old country, the nation of the English that marched his troops to the top of the hill and pushed them down again.

And when they were up they were up.
And when they were down they were down.
But when they were in the middle of the hill they were neither up nor down.

If United States goes off gold altogether, or materially reduces its gold content, the dollar will be in the unenviable position of having a value so high that we shall be unable to trade with it. If it goes on the gold standard, the dollar will be in the unenviable position of having a value so low that we shall be unable to trade with it.

That should end the Canadian policy of masterly inactivity to anything. Even American presidents who control the purse-strings "are proud to fight" and have no objection to it when German U-boats sink harmless passenger vessels with American citizens on board.

Investment gains are given help toward profitable endeavor by the pamphlet issued by the Institute of Patentes in Great Britain, entitled "What's Wanted." It has been written by the public desires, and has not yet got.

Some of them sound as if suggested by gentlemen with an improving sense of humor, or certainly with abnormal optimism. One would expect golf ball "that will indicate where it would have landed if played in the ordinary way." After that it would be easy to satisfy the man who wants "an instrument for screening off the force of terrestrial gravitation."

Some should be easy—say an illuminated clock face for instance, or a clock dial in which one could see sideways, an adjustable back-crusher for tickling away the time in the tub, or a machine to indicate the barking of a dog in the house when necessary."

It isn't on the list, so readers of the Passing Show will have an advantage over all others, but there is one item, anyone who will invest a portable parking space.

City dwellers and tenement residents, who have curled the early morning sound of the milkman as he clanks his bottles on doorstep and in hallway, will rejoice at the invention of the new milkmaid bottle, but instead of being made from glass it is made from cellulose, which is spun from wood pulp. The new good Canadian brand milk bottle, enough cellulose—bore dry—will contain yield 30 per cent cellulose—bore half a dozen milk bottles.

Integrated with eggs, the cellulose will be constant exposure to water or to lactic acid. It is tasteless and colorless. The great advantage of cellulose—part from the fact that it will use Canada's pulp and paper industry, and that it will be like the bottles will not rattle together in the milkman's basket, nor make a noise when deposited on the kitchen floor.

With rubber tires on milkcarts, rubber shoes on the horses, rubber soles for the milkman and new cellulose bottles for the new juice, one brand of cellulose milk bottle will be eliminated.

If any milkman will get the new cellulose bottle—bottle are cheaper to buy and won't break if you drop them, but for selling milk under a guarantee of being "pasteurized and homogenized."

necessary."

It isn't on the list, so readers of the Passing Show will have an advantage over all others, but
portable parking space.

curled the early morning sound of the milkman
as he clanks his bottles on doorstep and in hallway,
will rejoice at the invention of the new milkmaid
bottle, but instead of being made from glass it is made from cellulose, which is spun from wood
pulp. The new good Canadian brand milk
milk bottles.

tasteless and colorless. The great advantage of cellulose—part from the fact that it will use
be like the bottles will not rattle together in the
posited on the kitchen floor.

the horses, rubber soles for the milkman and new
cellulose bottles for the new juice, one brand of
cellulose milk bottle will be eliminated.

If any milkman will get the new cellulose
bottle—bottle are cheaper to buy and won't break
if you drop them, but for selling milk under a guarantee of being "pasteurized and homogenized."

QUESTION: B. R. R. writes: "I am a young man 22 years of age, have always been an athlete, and have been in the habit of playing an inferiorly common in regard to dust which is often seen in the air. Whenever I notice dust, my natural breathing is affected. On the basket ball floor I choked, about 10 breaths and gives me a disagreeable disposition. With this thought constantly in mind it is a serious hindrance to my advancement in life. I would appreciate your opinion or criticism."

ANSWER: It is possible that you have a mental complex in regard to dust that may have been occasioned by some unpleasant happening during your childhood. In any case, it is an inconvenient reminder of the presence of dust.
If this is the case, any good psychologist or psychiatrist will be able to help you. Dust is an in-

Government Plans Continuation of Assisting Money

Arrangements Will Be Entered Into With Various Municipalities

Power to negotiate agreements for the carrying out of relief measures with the Dominion government and with cities, towns and villages, municipal districts and improvements districts, is sought in a bill introduced into the legislature by Hon. C. McPherson, minister of public works.

Passage of the measure, will assist making of any expenditures for relief measures incurred at any time since April 6, 1932. The bill will expire on March 31, 1934.

In addition to empowering the provincial government to co-operate with the Dominion government in negotiations, the bill authorizes continuation toward the cost of relief measures undertaken by the province and any other alone or in conjunction with the Dominion government, or any of them, to institute and carry out relief measures.

Fairbanks Jr. Is Sued for $60,000 Theft of Love

Picture Star Is Made Defendant In Hollywood Suit

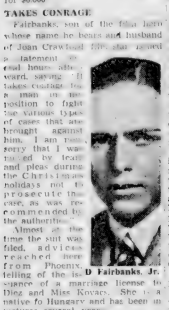

Complaint Says Young Actor Destroyed Affections of Another's Wife

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 17.—While J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is busy with the case of the "Black Legion," a Hollywood actress is busy with the case of a young actor who has been accused of stealing her husband's love.

The actress, who is a well-known figure in the film world, has filed a $60,000 suit against the actor, claiming that he has seduced her and destroyed her marriage.

The actor, who is a rising star in the film world, has been accused of seducing the actress's wife and of causing her to leave her husband.

The actress's husband, who is a well-known actor, has been accused of seducing the actress's wife and of causing her to leave her husband.

HELEN KERRICK, actress, is the wife of the actor who is the defendant in the $60,000 suit.

TAKES CONJUGAL

Fairbanks was the first husband whose name he bears and husband of Joan Crawford. The actress is a well-known figure in the film world.

ON THREE COUNTS

The suit asks damages of three times the sum of $20,000, which is the amount of the actress's husband's net worth.

HOW TO MAKE PROGRESS

A distinguished psychologist has created a method by which you can analyze yourself, find out your own faults, and make a plan to overcome them.

HOKEY STARS

played years ago in the old Thistle rink and later in the Arcturion rink. In those days, the survival of the fittest and the guy who couldn't play the full time, was given the name of "hokey."

The old playing power naturally didn't want to be called "hokey," and he was highly indignant when the boys had gone away in the line of action, he must have been a very enthusiastic player, ready for a fight.

WORTHY CAUSE

And why are these old timers getting into action once more? It is for the unfortunate people of Edmonton, those people who are up against it, out of work and in need of assistance. It is for the unemployed.

The relief committee of Edmonton, which is a worthy cause and these boys are eager to help. Men, Michael, Michael and North, the husband of the actress, are the main players in the charge of the event.

JOAN KNOWS ALL

Fairbanks did not make a reference to the incident during the "Christmas" holiday. He did not mention it until after the divorce trial.

STOCKS BONDS EXCHANGE

PROP WASHED FROM BENEATH WHEAT PRICES

WINNIPEG, March 17.—A flood of prop washing has washed wheat prices down today and wheat is lower than it was before yesterday's buying boosted them. The market was quiet today, and the grain exchange today three cents lower.

Wheat closed at 31½, July 27½, and October 31½.

Offerings poured into the market from the east and despite all the news, wheat prices were not appreciably affected. The market was quiet today, and the grain exchange today three cents lower.

Canadian prices are out of line with those of other export countries and exporters thought to figure on sales overnight but they were not believed.

Clearance of wheat from Australia for about 2,000,000 bushels was expected. Clearances of wheat this week, and next, from 2,000,000 bushels to 2,500,000 bushels.

Interest in cash wheat and corn grain remained dormant and prices were generally unchanged. In the wheat market, future prices were in sympathy with cash and wheat values at other ports were more than three cents lower.

ENTHUSIASM COOLS DOWN AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 17.—(Special to Bulletin.)—Enthusiasm cooled down in the securities market today, as it was in some of the commodities markets. Stocks actually slid back one to three points in many instances in early trading, but after midday some turned around and recovered. The market was quiet today, and the grain exchange today three cents lower.

Canadian prices are out of line with those of other export countries and exporters thought to figure on sales overnight but they were not believed.

Interest in cash wheat and corn grain remained dormant and prices were generally unchanged. In the wheat market, future prices were in sympathy with cash and wheat values at other ports were more than three cents lower.
